There are now a total of at least 14 towers planned, completed, or under construction at Miami Worldcenter.

As of this week, there are three towers under construction at Miami Worldcenter, new drone photos by Aaron DeMayo show.

All three of the under-construction towers have broken ground within the past 12 months.

The three currently under construction include:

- Legacy (50 story, 691-foot tower with condo, hotel and wellness)
- Miami World Tower (53 story, 579-foot tower with apartments)
- Caoba phase 2 (40-story, 413-foot tower with apartments)

Also now under construction: an 11-story CitizenM hotel and multiple retail and entertainment buildings, a public square, and pedestrian promenades.

Three towers at Worldcenter have already been completed, including Paramount (2019), Caoba phase 1 (2019), and Bezel (2022)

At least eight more towers are now in planning at Worldcenter, including Witkoff (three towers), The Crosby, Miami World Tower phase 2, Abbhi Capital, One Worldcenter, and Kenect.
